YOUTH PROGRAM

Pointing up the over-all youth of the Giants' playing roster, and the success of the Farm System's player procurement program, is the fact that of the 39 players on the 1962 roster (not including three on the National Defense List) more than half, twenty of them, are making their first or second appearances at the Phoenix training camp. Nine are at Phoenix for the first time, and eleven have been there just once before.

Those making their Phoenix debut are pitchers Paul Colacecchi, Matt Gayeski, Dick Holden, Dick Le May and Dan Rivas, infielders Jose Calero, Harold Lanier and Dick Phillips, and outfielder Manual Mota. Le May was with the Giants last season, of course, but joined the club after the National League season was underway.

The players who have been at Phoenix only one time before are pitchers Bob Bolin, Jim Duffalo, Ray Feldman, and Gaylord Perry, catcher Dick Dietz, infielders Ferrell Bowman, Gil Garrido, Charles Peterson, and outfielders Matty Alou, Arlo Engel and Bob Perry. Of these, Bolin, Duffalo, Bowman and Matty Alou were with the Giants last season.

The three pitchers not on the roster, but at Phoenix for the training program, are also relative newcomers. Ron Herbel and Julio Navarro trained with the Giants once before, and Gerry Thomas is making his first appearance.

The Giants Introduce....

PITCHERS

PAUL COLACECCHI . . . This twenty-one-year-old right hander is a member of the very promising first year group the Giants have brought to Phoenix. A native of Corning, N. Y., where he was signed upon his high school graduation, he pitched last summer, his first season in professional baseball, at Quincy in the Mid-West League. He won 10 games lost 8, and impressed with the power of his pitching.

RAY FELDMAN . . . Training camp observers will remember Feldman as a 1961 first year pitcher, who impressed with the quality of his fast ball. Assigned to Fresno in the California League for 1961, he realized on some those promises with a fine season, which produced twelve victories against eight defeats. A youngster on the way up. He is now twenty years old.

MATT GAYESKI . . . Another first year prospect, from Middletown, Connecticut. Assigned to the Quincy Club of the Mid-West League, he made his first season a winner; nine victories and six defeats. He is the "baby" of the mound staff; he just passed his twentieth birthday. A right hander.

The Giants Introduce....

GAYLORD PERRY . . . One of the Giants major "bonus" player prospects. He was signed by the Giants three years ago, for the highest bonus paid by the Giants up to that time. He has progressed steadily through the organization, and the past two seasons, both impressive winners, at Harlingen in the Texas League, and Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League, appear to have readied him for his major league chance. Many observers tabbed him as the best pitcher in the Coast League last year. For the Tacoma pennant winners, he won 16 and lost 10, and led the league in Earned Run effectiveness, with a mark of 2.55. A big, six foot four inch 205 pounder, the 23 year old North Carolinian is the brother of Cleveland's Jim Perry. He was signed originally upon the recommendation of scouts Tim Murchison and Tom Sheehan.

DAN RIVAS . . . A southpaw brought up from the Victoria Club of the Texas League, where in 1961 he won nine games and lost eight. A native of the Dominican Republic he was a teen-age friend and competitor of Juan Marichal's. He is credited with exceptional control, as is indicated by his E. R. A. at Victoria, 3.19. He has been in the Giants' organization since 1958.

DICK HOLDEN . . . This young left hander is Northern California development, and lives now in Palo Alto. The Giants drafted him during the past winter from the Milwaukee Brave organization, after he had enjoyed a sensational freshman year. After impressing with a ten and four record at Boise in the Pioneer League, he was moved up to the Class B Yakima Club in the Northwest League where he won six in a row without defeat. Eddie Montague also scouted him closely during the winter Peninsular League season, and tabs him an exceptional prospect.

The Giants Introduce....

CATCHERS

DICK DIETZ . . . Another of the high bracket bonus prospects on the Giants' roster, the husky catching hopeful is making his second appearance at the Giants' training camp. His first full season of professional play, at El Paso in the Sophomore League, tabbed him as a hitting prospect. He compiled a .332 batting average and clicked off 24 home runs. A native of Greenville, S. C., where he attracted national attention as a high school athlete, Dietz is 20 years old and a right handed hitter.

INFIELDERS

GIL GARRIDO . . . This nineteen-year-old Panamanian native—a shortstop—comes to camp preceded by glowing reports of his playing skills. He has been playing professionally only for a year and a half, but last season jumped into prominence immediately with his flashy defensive play for the pennant winning Tacoma Giants. Many observers tabbed him as the finest infielding prospect in the Coast League. A fast man, with quick and sure hands, he did an outstanding shortstopping job. He's a little fellow—a 5'-9" 155 pounder—on the Phil Rizzuto, Luis Aparicio model, with apparently the same flashing skills. He hit .247 at Tacoma last summer, after a .362 season at Artesia in Class D the year before.

HAROLD LANIER . . . This 19-year-old Floridian, the son of the old Cardinal and Giant southpaw pitching star, Max Lanier, is the Giants' newest bonus hopeful. He was signed last June after a highly successful all-sport career in Florida high school competition, at St. Petersburg. Assigned to Quincy in the Midwest League, he got off to a fine professional start. He hit .315 for Quincy as a shortstop. He has a powerful arm, and as a high school athlete, was a part time pitcher. A growing youngster, he is a six foot two inch 180 pounder.

The Giants Introduce....

DICK PHILLIPS . . . One of the several first year Giants who are expected to qualify for service in San Francisco. As a handy man player and pinch hitter, Phillips was an outstanding player at Tacoma last summer, and one of the key figures in the little Giants' pennant triumph. Indicating the "clutch" quality of his hitting the records credit him with 98 RBI on a .264 average. Phillips has been playing in the high minors for the past several seasons, and came into the Giant organization a year ago. This is first appearance at the Giants' camp. He is thirty years old.

CHARLES PETERSON . . . A bonus signee two seasons ago, the shortstopping and outfielding Peterson is at Phoenix for the second time. Tabbed as an exceptional prospect, he was severely hampered by injuries during the past season, and played only 24 games at Eugene in the Northwest League. All scouting reports tab him as a hitter.

OUTFIELDERS

JOSE CARDENAL . . . This nineteen-year-old outfielder from Matanzas, Cuba, compiled startling statistics through his first season of professional play at El Paso. He led the Sophomore League in hitting with an average of .361, collected 176 hits in 128 games, thirty-five of them homers, scored more than 150 runs, knocked in 108, and between times stole 65 bases.

ARLO ENGEL . . . This power hitting outfielder, who made such a fine impression as a first year rookie at Phoenix last spring, enjoyed another season in 1961 that impressed observers. Playing at Fresno in the California League he walloped 25 homers and had 99 RBI's with a .246 average. Scouts credit him with a tremendous natural ability and style, and look for his early development.

MANUAL MOTA . . . A right handed hitting graduate of the Giants' farm organization—Tacoma last year—Mota is making his second appearance at the Phoenix training camp. He is a fine outfielder and thrower, and at Tacoma last year hit .289.

BOB PERRY . . . Also a farm organization player who is making a second appearance at the Giants' training camp. Perry hits the long ball; twenty-two homers and 94 RBI's at Tacoma last year. He played at Tacoma, Sacramento and Phoenix in recent years.
